

Dear Colleague and Business Partner,

Please be advised that effective immediately, CAD Audio changes its distribution network in Canada and appoints Coast Music as their exclusive distributor for the MI marketplace.

We are committed to providing the best service and products to our customers and we are thrilled to have the opportunity to partner with CAD Audio to deliver a brand recognized for their immense quality with a long and rich heritage. We look forward to expanding market share in Canada and it is our goal to create a stronger presence for CAD Audio products among retailers and greater accessibility to consumers.

CAD Audio originally took shape as the Astatic Corporation, founded in 1931 and has evolved into a successful manufacturer of commercial and studio microphones and accessories for a wide variety of applications across the globe.

The CAD Audio product line of Live Sound microphones, Recording microphones and Professional headphones fits perfectly with Coast Music's current product offering. We look forward to great success with this professional collaboration.
